Join us for a one-day convening of scholars, practitioners, technologists, and policymakers examining the most pressing legal questions at the intersection of artificial intelligence (AI) and the law. As AI becomes embedded in commercial systems, government functions, and everyday life, the law faces profound implications. This Summit aims to generate scholarship that will shape the legal frameworks needed for the era ahead.

Registration is free and includes a continental breakfast, light lunch, and a post-conference networking reception.

This event is co-sponsored by the New York Law School Law Review and the NYLS Innovation Center for Law and Technology.
