Please join the Transitional Justice Network for a conversation about cause-lawyering in Palestinian cases before the Israeli Supreme Court with Hassan Jabareen, General Director, Adalah - The Legal Center for Arab Minority Rights in Israel, with commentary by Prof. Stephen Ellmann, New York Law School

The goal of the Transitional Justice Network is to promote global discourse and knowledge among students, scholars, and professionals on issues of transitional justice. A place for discussion, where students can learn about current issues in the field, scholars can link with other scholars working in similar areas, and professionals can keep up to date with trending thoughts and philosophies. http://www.transitional-justice.org

Hassan Jabareen, a Palestinian human rights lawyer, is the Founder and General Director of Adalah – The Legal Center for Arab Minority Rights in Israel. Hassan is also a lecturer at Tel Aviv University Law School, among others, and is the author of numerous scholarly articles on citizenship, identity, transnational lawyering, and constitutionalism. A former Senior Robina Visiting Human Rights Fellow at Yale Law School in 2012-2013, Hassan Jabareen has received several awards for outstanding public interest lawyering.

Stephen Ellmann is Professor of Law at NYLS; Director of Clinical and Experiential Learning and Co-Chair of the South Africa Reading Group. He is an award-winning author on legal ethics and an expert in clinical legal education, constitutional law, and South African law.

Ruti Teitel is the Ernst C. Stiefel Professor of Comparative Law, NYLS; Director, Institute for Global Law, Justice & Policy; Author, Humanity’s Law (OUP, 2012) and Globalizing Transitional Justice (OUP, 2014).