

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLETION

Harlan Scholars/International Associates Program

Name: _____

Requirement 1: One "core" course in international law. Please check one box below:

- Comparative Law
- International Business Transactions
- International Law: an Introduction OR International Law in Contemporary Perspectives
- Transnational Law
- The United Nations and World Order

Requirement 2: One advanced course or seminar in international law.

(Name of course/Semester completed: _____)

Requirement 3: One "capstone" requirement. Please check one box below.

- A project-based learning course with an international or comparative law component
(Name of course/Semester completed: _____)
- An advanced international or comparative law course or seminar that has a writing requirement (i.e., a research paper), and then actually completing that research paper (Final exams do not count as research papers)
(Name of course/Semester completed: _____)
- Independent study to write a research paper on an international or comparative law topic
(Name of faculty advisor/Semester completed: _____)
- An advanced international or comparative law course or seminar that requires students to participate in professional activities beyond class discussion
(Name of course/Semester completed: _____)
(Name of activity: _____)
- The International Human Rights Law Workshop
- A "capstone" or "tech law" project with an international or comparative law component through the Justice Action Center or the Institute for Information Law and Policy
(Name of project/Semester completed: _____)
- Participating in and completing the William C. Vis or Philip C. Jessup moot court competitions
(Name of competition/Semester completed: _____)
- Externship, summer or term-time internship, job, or volunteer work with an international or comparative law component
(Name of project/Semester completed: _____)
- Working as a research assistant for a professor on international or comparative law issues.
(Name of professor/Dates worked: _____)
- Other writing projects such as a Note (for Harlan Scholars only; prior approval is required):
(Description of writing project/Semester completed: _____)

Please return this form to Michael Rhee in Room SW-920 (at 40 Worth Street on the ninth floor)