

AFTER THE MORATORIUM: THE FUTURE OF TENANT ADVOCACY

This event is hosted by students of the NYLS Housing Rights Clinic in coordination with Professor Andrew Scherer of the NYLS Housing Rights Clinic. The event is co-sponsored by the Wilf Impact Center for Public Interest Law.

Date: Monday, May 2, 2022

Time: 12:50 p.m.–1:50 p.m. EDT

Location: Virtual

Information on how to access this virtual event will be provided upon RSVP.

RSVP: www.nyls.edu/impactrsvp

Join students from New York Law School's Housing Rights Clinic for a lunch discussion about the status of housing rights after the expiration of various COVID-19 era tenant protections. Joined by prominent members of the tenants' rights advocacy community, the discussion will explore the future of housing rights in New York City and in the United States, the various issues affecting New York City tenants, and the critical need for tenants' attorneys.

PANELISTS:

Aida Flores '21, Staff Attorney,
Manhattan Legal Services

Sumathy Kumar, Campaign Organizer,
Housing Justice for All

John Pollock, Coordinator, National
Coalition for a Civil Right to Counsel

