

DISCOVERY IN PRACTICE

PANEL 1:

Bridget Killen '23, Assistant District Attorney at the Bronx DA's Office

Molly Rogowski '15, Criminal Court Supervisor, Assistant District Attorney, Manhattan DA's Office

Alexia Senkiw '23, Assistant District Attorney at the Bronx DA's Office

Moderator: Lynn Boepple Su, Dean for Advocacy and Co-Curricular Programs and Professor of Law

This event provides a comprehensive look at modern criminal discovery, connecting both practice and policy. The first panel focuses on how discovery works in real cases, with practitioners explaining current obligations and challenges in day-to-day litigation. The second panel broadens the discussion to the policy behind recent reforms, exploring their impact and the ongoing debate over fairness, efficiency, and public safety. Together, the panels give students both a practical understanding of discovery and insight into its future direction.

PANEL 2:

Filomena Stabile, Staff Attorney, Legal Aid Society; Criminal Defense Practice

Sandra Suweidan, New York City Police Department, Executive Agency Counsel

Josephine Whiteley '24, Staff Attorney, Legal Aid Society; Criminal Defense Practice

Moderator: Heather Cucolo '03, Distinguished Adjunct Professor of Law
